BirdFest & Bluegrass 2023
October 7th, 2023

In 2023, The City of Ridgefield will be hosting in-person in-town events, including a vendor marketplace, music, family crafts, orienteering, and more in Downtown Ridgefield, plus a kick-off to Walk for the Wild that goes from downtown to the Refuge.

The Friends will have a self-guided Carty Unit Refuge hike, there will be wandering trail stewards to answer questions, Carty Unit hourly walks and talks, Partner Party, the River S Auto Tour will be open, Sandhill Crane Tours, Photo Contest Winners, and much more!

The Refuge will be fee-free, and seasonal trails will be open for an extra weekend! Stay tuned as more details are added throughout the summer.

Ridgefield Refuge Complex News & Events

Gate times for both units: 5:30 am - 9:00 pm

Refuge Waterfowl Hunt Program starts Saturday, October 14th

Ridgefield National Wildlife Refuge strives to offer a waterfowl hunting program where participants of all abilities can enjoy a variety of safe and quality experiences. Staff work with partners and the local community to make hunting more inclusive and accessible to all, balance hunt program needs with other public uses, and reduce impacts to nontarget species. As a result of participating in the waterfowl hunting program, hunters can gain a better appreciation of the refuge’s mission and its resource management.

Hunting at Ridgefield NWR occurs on Tuesdays, Thursday and Saturdays during the state regulated season, October through January. Various blind options are offered in 760 acres of land adjacent to, but separate from other public use areas. Options include pit and box blinds and two accessible blinds for hunters with disabilities.

Hunters can enter a pre-season lottery system held in August to obtain reservations.
for priority check in. Reservations are not required to attend as a stand-by hunter to occupy remaining blinds.

For more information about hunting go to the Refuge Waterfowl Hunting Website or call the office M-F 8t to 4 at 360-887-4106.

Duck Stamp Now Available at the Refuge Office
The Duck Stamp, required to hunt waterfowl on Federal land, contributes to the conservation of thousands of acres of land annually. Much of Ridgefield and other local refuges were purchased with Duck Stamp funds. Anyone can buy a duck stamp and contribute to acquiring land for conservation. It is also a beautiful work of art and collectors item! Purchase them in the office M-F, 8-4 with cash or check for $25 dollars.

From the Contact Station

Under the Cottonwood Trees

Another hot and dry summer. But not as hot and dry as some places. In the last couple of weeks, the grass has been mowed and baled. We have hopes for the harriers and kestrels to return to the area with better access to prey. I’ve been checking the tops of the hay bales from the back of the contact station for a perched hawk or two.

You may have noticed several volunteers are bringing in their favorite outdoor chairs to sit on the contact station porch. Facing north and surrounded by the cottonwood trees, the North-northwest breezes keep us cooler in summer. It also turns out to be a very pleasant way to do wildlife viewing, feeder watching, and chatting with... Keep reading...
